SUES HOTEL MAN FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT.

Was Held as Insane While in Her Right Mind—Judge Keyes Again Postmaster at Madison—Notable Anniversary at Racine—Ex-Gov. Upham's Sparkler.

Eau Claire, Wis., March 1.—Ella A. Tonsley, formerly of Eau Claire, now at Spokane, Wash., has sued the Spokane Hotel company and Benjamin Norman, as manager of the hotel, for $75,000. She was committed December 9 last to Medical Lake insane asylum under the name of Mrs. Etta Van Atto. She arrived at Spokane last fall in search of Miss Maud L. Meservy, clerk of the Montana board of pardons, who was taken ill at Helena last summer, who was brought to Spokane by her father, and who died in Spokane July 3.

Mrs. Van Atto claimed that Maud Meservy was not dead, but was being concealed. Mrs. Van Atto also consulted chief of Police Warren and detectives and could not be convinced Maud Meservy was dead. During her investigation Mrs. Van Atto stopped at the Spokane hotel. She claims Norman confined her in her room and caused her to be assaulted, beaten and maltreated, and for this demands $25,000.

She also claims Norman induced the sheriff to charge her with insanity and that it resulted in her commitment Dec. 9 last to the asylum, whence she was discharged, Feb. 8, 1898; that she was not insane and Norman knew it. She demands $50,000 damages on account of Norman's part in the insanity proceedings.

WEDDED FIFTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Dutton, of Racine, observe a Notable Anniversary

Racine, Wis., March 1.—Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Dutton celebrated the fifty-fifth anniversary of their marriage at the old homestead on Lake avenue, by holding a family reunion on Saturday last. The maiden name of Mrs. Dutton was Miss Ann Whitely, and the marriage took place in the town of Dover, on Feb. 27, 1843. For fifty years they have lived in the same house on Lake avenue. Mr. Dutton was identified with the early commercial history of the city. He built the first bridge pier, the piers elevator, and was one of the proprietors of the first hotel. He also assisted in building the old Janesville & Mississippi railroad. Politically he has been honored, having been a member of the council, school board and was justice of the peace. He is president of the Racine County Old Settlers' society. Eleven children were born to the couple and seven are living, among them being Col. B. Dutton, who was a member of Gov. Upham's staff.

ALMOST CAUSED A WRECK

Hair-Raising Experience of an Engineer on the Northwestern

Beloit, Wis., March 1.—Engineer Dopp and his fireman, of the Chicago passenger on the Northwestern road, had a thrilling experience and their train barely escaped being wrecked at Roscoe, Ill., six miles from this city, last evening.

While coming down a grade the driver connecting-rods on both sides of the engine broke, knocking the cab to pieces and tearing up ties upon the track. The engineer succeeded in shutting off the steam and with the fireman got to the back part of the tender and the train stopped without further damage being done.

PARTS WITH HIS BIG DIAMOND

Ex-Gov. Upham Sells His Koh-i-noor to a Chicago Woman.

Marshfield, Wis., March 1.—Mrs. Celia Wallace, widow of the wealthy lumberman, J. S. Wallace of Chicago, has added to her magnificent collection of gems the second largest diamond in the United States. The price paid for the precious stone, which is only surpassed in beauty and intrinsic value by the famous Tiffany diamond, was $21,500. The gem was the property of Ex-Gov. Upham of Wisconsin. Mrs. Wallace is the woman who offered to adopt and educate the young Cuban girl, Miss Cisneros, at the time of her visit to Chicago.

JUDGE KEYES IS POSTMASTER

Assumed His New Duties at Madison This Morning.

Madison, Wis., March 1.—Judge Elisha W. Keyes expects to assume the duties of postmaster today. He sent his bond to Washington several days ago. Assistant Postmaster Henry Schmiedeman has been reappointed. Judge Keyes said that Mr. Schmiedeman will be retained for some time. The position of assistant pays $1,500 a year. The judge says that he has received twenty-five or thirty applications for the place.

Wisconsin News in Brief.

The Walworth County Farmers' institute and Midwinter fair opened in Delavan today, and will continue two days. Unusual local interest is manifested, and extensive preparations have been made for the event. In addition to the institute proper a long list of premiums has been made up for exhibitions of farm products and pantry stores. Many Janesville exhibitors are in attendance.

The deputy sheriff of Polk county has been in Cumberland looking for a man who it is alleged has been swindling the farmers of Polk county by selling bankrupt stocks of goods and never delivering the goods.

A fire, caused by the breaking of a lamp, did damage to the extent of $1,000 at Ball & Goss's agricultural warehouse at Beloit, last evening.

STIRRING UP THE HAWKEYES

Rev. Mr. Eaton, Formerly of Janesville, Doing Hard Work in Des Moines.

Rev. H. L. Eaton, formerly pastor of Court Street M. E. church of this city, is now located at Des Moines, Iowa, and has recently created a sensation there by the vigorous manner in which he has denounced the people for not doing more to aid the poor. He says they cast their eyes "up to heaven or down on the ground when they meet the needy, and pass them by without recognition." "Go into their homes," exclaimed Dr. Eaton, "Make them your brothers, bring them to the church, save them. You can do it. I tremble at the word organization; there are 153 clubs in Des Moines now, but I recommend two more, organized not to make pleasure and comfort for the members, but to save bodies from blight and souls from starvation."

Mr. Eaton was quite popular during his stay in Janesville, and while here was married to Miss Bates, a member of his church, his first wife having died a short time previously.

WRESTLING WITH A WOODPILE

Edgerton Champion Is Doing the Act at the County Jail

Peter Heavily, of Edgerton, who prides himself on the fact that he is the champion wrestler of southern Wisconsin, is now in the Rock county jail for a term of thirty days. He was sent down for assaulting a friend of his on the streets of Edgerton last Saturday night. While at the jail Mr. Heavily will give a public exhibition of how a man can wrestle with ten cords of wood without once sharpening his saw.

Charles Rooney, an Edgerton drunk, is also down to serve out a five days' sentence.

TAKING A NEEDED REST

Uncle Sam's Mail Horse Is Recuperating From An Accident.

The yellow colored horse that has been hauling Uncle Sam's mail to and from the trains in this city under the faithful guidance of Michael Farrell, is now off duty and is liable to be for some time. While crossing the tracks at Academy street he accidentally caught one of his feet between the planking and the rail and in trying to free himself he nearly severed his hoof. After fifteen minutes' work on the part of a dozen men the foot was removed.

DIED IN MILWAUKEE

Former Janesville Woman Passes Away in the Cream City

Mrs. Rush D. Simmons died this morning at her home, 20 1/2 Thirtieth street, Milwaukee, after an illness of four weeks.

Nellie Harris Simmons was born in Janesville, Aug. 6, 1865, being the oldest daughter of Mrs. Henry Harris. Mrs. Simmons spent the early years of her life in this city, being a graduate of the Janesville High school class of '84.

April 25, 1888, she was united in marriage to Mr. Rush D. Simmons. Not only to the relatives left to mourn her loss, but to those friends who knew the warmth of her heart and the generosity of her disposition, will the news of her death bring sorrow.

In Mrs. Simmons' daily life showed forth the earnestness of her christian character, and at the time of her death she was a faithful member of the Pilgrim Congregational church of Milwaukee. Besides her husband she leaves three small children, the youngest aged four weeks, her mother, Mrs. Henry Harris and two sisters, Misses Lizzie and Alice Harris, of this city. Mrs. Simmons' father died only six weeks ago of pneumonia. The funeral will be held at Lake Mills Thursday morning. Notice of the hour will be given later.

Henry Schultz

Mr. Henry Schultz died at 12 o'clock at his home, 258 Lincoln street, at the age of 61 years, 3 months and 8 days. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Wilhelmine Schultz, and five children, Mrs. Herman Thiede, Mrs. William Ziebert, Carl Schultz and Miss Martha Schultz, of this city, and Mrs. William Grundlock, town of Porter. The funeral services will be held at the house 1:30 o'clock, and from St. John's German Lutheran church at 2 o'clock, Monday afternoon. Rev. George Kaempfelein will hold the services.

Death of Barbara Wright.

Barbara Ethel Wright, aged fifteen months, died this morning at 6:30 o'clock, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Waite Wright, Jr., 301 South Jackson street, after a week's illness. Little Barbara was an exceptionally bright and loving child, and will be sadly missed by her bereaved father and mother, who are left to mourn her loss. Funeral Thu. day at St. Mary's church, at 2 p. m., to Mt. Olivet cemetery.

ROCK COUNTY MAN HIGHLY HONORED

H. C. TAYLOR CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF DAIRYMEN.

Has Done Much to Encourage the Raising of Fine Stock—His Prize Jersey Butter-Maker at the World's Fair Draws Forth Praise.

H. C. Taylor of Orfordville, Wis., who was elected president of the Wisconsin Dairymen's association, at its recent meeting in Manitowish, has been identified with the dairy interest of the state for many years, and he owns the cow which took the championship at the World's fair. He has been employed by the state as institute worker and conductor, and his election as president of the dairymen's association was a well-deserved honor.

Mr. Taylor was born in 1855 on a Wisconsin farm, and grew up amid its surroundings. He went from the country school to the Brodhead high school, and later followed teaching as a profession for many years. In 1879 he bought a farm near Orfordville, Rock county, and in 1880 founded the Brown Bessie herd of Jersey cattle. By close study and application of the principles of breeding and proper selection and making, a herd of Jersey cattle of the highest excellence has been developed. When the "bugle" called to action "the great battle of the breeds," at the World's fair, in which seventy-five cows contested, Mr. Taylor was there with his cow, Brown Bessie, which made an unapproachable record. She made more butter in a day, a week, a month and throughout the entire period of the test than any other cow in the competition, and she was proclaimed the greatest cow living. The world was looking on and saw this Wisconsin cow, bred and born on the Brown Bessie farm at Orfordville, defeat all competitors. Wisconsin is proud of her agricultural achievements, proud of her dairymen, and proud of the fact that she has produced the greatest dairy cow that ever lived.

PAYING THE CITY EMPLOYEES

Checks Drawn Upon the Treasury For Monthly Allowances.

City Clerk Badger was busy today in completing the monthly pay roll. Checks to the amount of $500 were made out, to be paid from the general fund, which includes the salary of the police, city attorney, city clerk and street commissioner.

Checks for $350.50 were made out upon the fire and water fund, which means the paying off of the fire department. The other city salaried officers not included in these two funds, are paid quarterly instead of monthly.

From all over the country, come words of praise for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Here is a sample letter from Mrs. C. Shep. of Little Rock, Ark.: "I was suffering from a very severe cold, when I read of the cures that had been effected by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I concluded to give it a trial and accordingly procured a bottle. It gave me prompt relief and I have the best reason for recommending it very highly, which I do with pleasure." A Damaging Secret.

"I deem it proper to tell you," said Codling to the hotel clerk, when he registered, after his visit to "the other side," "that I am the son of an English duke, doncher know."
"All right," replied the clerk, "don't be afraid. I'll not expose you if you keep your board bill paid a week in advance."

WAR CLOUD NOT SO THREATENING

BELIEF THAT A RUPTURE IS NOT IMMINENT.

Government Must Proceed According to Recognized Usage—Progress of the Maine Inquiry—Havana Papers Insulting to the Dead.

Washington, March 1.—[Special]—The danger of precipitate war is believed here to have passed away. That it will come ultimately many predict, but not until all the forms in the code of nations have been properly observed. Administration men say the disappearing war clouds will reveal brighter days for Cuba. Today expires Spain's time to prove autonomy a success. Its failure is well known, but Spain is trying to have the time extended. If she fails in this it is believed McKinley will stick to his original proposition to cease to consider autonomy a factor in the settlement of the Cuban question.

COURT OF INQUIRY IN SESSION

Nothing Divulged Relative to Its Proceedings

Key West, March 1.—[Special]—The second day's session of the court of inquiry began in the United States district court house shortly after 10 o'clock. Most of the officers who were examined yesterday had been informed that they might be recalled, and the lieutenants and cadets of the warship were all on hand, although it is expected they will not be examined until the court returns from its second visit to Havana. Groups of enlisted men also gathered about the court room door awaiting their turn to be examined.

DON'T LIKE THE OUTLOOK.

Congressmen Not Pleased With the Maine Inquiry Status.

Washington, March 1.—[Special]—Many congressmen do not like the present aspect of the Maine affair. They fear Spain will come out unscathed and there will be no reparation for the horrible catastrophe. This belief is strengthened by the fact that reports indicate that the cause of the explosion will never be known. Such a finding would avert the necessity of holding Spain responsible.

WAR RAGING FURIOUSLY.

Severe Engagements in Puerto Principe and Santiago de Cuba.

Havana, March 1.—[Special]—According to official reports in the war is raging fiercely Puerto Principe and Santiago de Cuba. Many engagements are reported in which the loss of life was heavy.

Madrid, March 1.—[Special]—Recent telegrams show marked increase in the number of Spanish troops killed and wounded in Cuba.

PRESIDENT WRITING A MESSAGE

It Will Be Presented to Congress at an Early Day.

Washington, March 1.—[Special]—No war news of importance was given out today. The president is preparing a special message to send to congress. The contents are unknown.

Eliminated from Controversy.

Washington, March 1.—[Special]—At the cabinet meeting today the opinion was expressed by various members that the element of Spain's participation in the Maine horror is practically obliterated.

Insulting the Dead.

Havana, March 1.—[Special]—Local papers continue to make insulting remarks about the men who perished on the Maine. One paper refers to them as "dumb beasts or some other kind of animals."

Guns for Willet's Point.

New York, March 1.—[Special]—Two additional guns were received at Willet's Point today. The work of mounting them was begun immediately.

The Board of Inquiry

Key West, March 1.—[Special]—The board of inquiry resumed its investigation today. The impression is growing that the board will be unable to specify what agency blew up the Maine.

MOST BEAUTIFUL SHOE STORE

C. H. Spencer's New Place of Business Opens Tomorrow At the Former Holmes Stand.

The handsomest shoe store that has ever opened its doors to public patronage in this city will have its initiation into Janesville trade circles tomorrow morning when C. H. Spencer opens his new stand in the J. D. Holmes stand. First impressions are always lasting and as one enters the door the sight is most pleasing. Six large high back leather seats made especially for Mr. Spencer by A. H. Revell & Co., of Chicago, are but one of the many beautiful fixtures. The entire back of the store is a mass of mirrors; the shelving and manner of arranging stock not only sets off and adds to the general handsome effect but is also very convenient. The decorations are all pretty and the stock is the very best that money can buy, variety and assortment being a strong point. Mr. Spencer is not a new man in the shoe business, having been actively engaged in the trade for the past ten years. Daniel J. Luby has been engaged as head clerk, and the new enterprise starts with every promise of gratifying success. The public is cordially invited to inspect the new store tomorrow.

BOB-TAIL ENGINE IS DISABLED

Afton Passenger Service Discontinued for a Time.

What came near being a serious accident took place yesterday afternoon, to the Afton "bob tail" passenger soon after its departure from the Northwestern depot in this city. While nearing the cotton factory the side rod to the engine got out of order, and the train was brought to a standstill as soon as possible, and brought back to this city, where a change of engines was ordered.

A Soft Reply.

"Oh, tell me, good publisher, say as you read, Do you think that my book is the kind to succeed? Because if its contents you do not admire, I've some other irons, you know, in the fire." And the publisher smiled as he lifted his head: "You'd better put this with the others," he said.

The mink they capture at night with steel traps. The Indians market their furs in this city and manage to make fair wages.

The Frank Herman Liquor Case Postponed to June 1.

When the case of the State of Wisconsin vs Frank Herman was called in the municipal court this morning it was adjourned till June 1. In this case were $52.70 costs and of this amount $12.70 have been paid, and although the case has not been finished it is said that it might be dropped should the defendant pay the balance of the costs. The defendant was arrested July 13 last charged with disposing of liquor in the town of Magnolia without a license. The case has been adjourned several times.

BANK OFFICERS WON POINT

Depositors Can Do Nothing Until Supreme Court Takes Action

The officers of the Bank of Edgerton won a victory in the circuit court yesterday, when the case of C. M. Gager against the bank was called. (THE GAZETTE AGENCY, W. W. CLARKE, Manager, Milton, Wis., Mar. 1, 1898.)

The live stock business got a black eye last week, and the local buyers could not see their way clear to pay four cents for hogs. In fact, at the present writing $3.80 is a good price for the best grades in the country, with little prospect of the four dollar figure being reached until there is a sharp advance in the price of mess pork. Some buyers got excited and have some four cent hogs on hand which they cannot ship except at a loss. Shipments for the week include two cars of hogs by Vincent & Hassenberger; three cars of tobacco by Soverhill & Porter; and one car of hay by G. R. Fetherston. Freight received in car loads: by Soverhill & Porter, seven cars of tobacco and one of lumber; Saunders, one of coal; J. S. Fetherston, one of bran.

SUBMERGED MADISON LANDS
Judicial Decision That May Affect the Ownership of Much Property.

Madison, Wis., March 1—Judge Siebecker in the circuit court yesterday gave a decision affecting the ownership of all the land on the shores of Lake Mendota, which was submerged years ago, when the lake level was raised by a dam across the mouth of Yahara river.

The suit was a petition for an injunction filed by the Mendota club, which owns hunting grounds in a bay on the north side of the lake, against Otto Anderson and John Niebuhr, to prevent the latter from hunting on the shore. The club alleged that the lake as far out as the old shore line was their property, and that the club owned the bottom there and had a right to prevent any person hunting.

The court holds that the part of the lake where Anderson and Niebuhr were found hunting is a part of the lake and open to all, and that therefore no action can be had to keep any one off. The case will be appealed.

It is a test of the rights of owners of land along inland lakes. There are no decisions on the point in this state, and the finding of the Supreme court will have an important bearing on the ownership of the land which would be uncovered if the four lakes

Magnolia News Notes.

Magnolia, March 1—The jester attended the farmers' institute at Evansville on the 18th, got snowed in and had to stay a week. I think that little city has more snow in it than any other city of its size in the United States. When Isaiah Grestinger went to feed his herd of swine about a week ago he found one old sow frothing at the mouth and showing symptoms of hydrophobia. She sprang the others, biting and tearing them and he was obliged to kill the whole thirteen and burn them. He supposes the sow was bitten by a mad dog. Ernest Setzer's little babe, who has not been expected to live is getting better. Mrs. Smith, of Janesville, is on the sick list. Edna Clifford closed her school in the Moore district last Friday. Mrs. Bill Thompson is quite sick. Mrs. Will Wilkey is visiting friends in Evansville. The Klondike fever has given way for the war fever talk. Uncle Sam will not look for valiant men to clean out Spain and free Cuba. M. J. Harper is the agent for the Page Woven Wire Company, and is prepared to work for anyone needing his services. Mrs. Abbie Sawtelle started for her home in Maine last Friday. She has been spending several months here with relatives. Friday of this week Alice Clifford will close her services for the winter at Center, where she has been teaching. Miss Bridget McGuire, who has been very sick, is recovering. The house of Peter McGovern burned on the night of the 19th. The family were sleeping, and only had time to get out with their nightclothes. They escaped from a window. The house was insured in the Farm Insurance company. Mrs. G. G. Letts has been confined to the house for several weeks with the grip. Little Bennie Green is much better. He has been under the doctor's care for some time.

Lima.

Lima, March 1—Mr. Lamer has moved his family into Mrs. Carrie Bray's house, on the hill. Oregon Truckman and family arrived from Rockford, Ill., Tuesday, and will make Lima their future home. The party given in Holbrook's hall last Friday evening by the T. D. & H. club, was a most enjoyable affair. About seventy-five were present. Ray & Ward, of Waukegan, furnished the music, and M. Holbrook the supper. Rev. Mr. Chambers delivered his lecture "Railroad to Hell," to a large and attentive audience Monday evening. The singing by the male quartette was exceptionally fine. A. Elphick has purchased the residence of the late Mrs. H. J. Bacon. B. Regan, a former resident of this place, died at his home in Milwaukee, Monday, February 21. Mrs. Howell, of Eagle, has been spending the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Warner. Miss Alice Carroll spent Sunday in Whitewater. Samuel Higgins returned to Minneapolis Sunday. Mesdames Wurster and Glennan spent Monday in Milwaukee. The circulating library of the Epworth League is at the postoffice, and anyone wishing to read any of its contents may do so by applying to Mrs. Chapman. Mrs. R. H. Stetson is visiting in Orfordville. A. O. Hall and daughter, of Whitewater, called on Lima friends Sunday. The train came too soon last Saturday to suit James Hull, and he did not take his usual trip to Whitewater. Mrs. Peter Godfrey came from Milwaukee to see her father, Mr. Pethick, who is very sick.

North Johnstown.

North Johnstown, March 1—William Bishop met with an accident Friday. As he was climbing to the top of a straw stack the ladder broke and he fell, striking his stomach across the end of the broken ladder. He is recovering, and the injury did not prove to be as serious as it was at first thought to be. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Osborn went to Whitewater, Sunday, and attended the memorial service for the late Frances E. Willard in the evening. Clark Palmer's family moved to Whitewater, Thursday. They will be greatly missed in this community, where they have resided for so many years. Mr. Stahnke has moved onto the farm and will work it the coming year. Remember the W. O. T. U. meeting with Mrs. Steele, Thursday afternoon. H. Tooker and wife spent Sunday with friends in Whitewater. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Austin, of Janesville, visited their children here last week. James Bennett and wife visited in Janesville the first of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Smith, of Whitewater, have been spending several days at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William Bishop. Mrs. George Shumway received a dispatch Saturday announcing the dangerous illness of her only sister at Maquoketa, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cleland visited in Whitewater, Thursday.

Reduced Rates For Settlers.

In order to encourage the movement of settlers and land buyers from Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and the eastern states to Western Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway Co. has very materially reduced its carload rates for emigrant movables, so that farmers who have purchased lands in Western Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota can take all of their belongings with them to their new homes at small expense, which inducement upon the part of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. will no doubt be greatly appreciated by those who are thus benefitted.

For further information apply to any agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry., or to J. H. Hiland, General Freight Agent, Old Colony Building, Chicago, Ill.

M'LELLAN WON FIGHT
IN FOURTH ROUNDCITY KNOCKED OUT FOR GOOD
THIS TIME.

Decisive Blow Was Struck In the Fourth Round and the Saloon Will Stay Open Until the License Runs Out Next July—Funeral Is Held.

"The McEllan fight"—famed for several reasons—passed from earth last night with the city officials as mourners. Attorney W. E. Wheeler was the executioner and he wielded the ax with thoroughness. Consequently McEllan will probably remain in the saloon business until next July, when his license expires, and then quit, as it is a foregone conclusion that another license will not be granted to him.

Attorney Wheeler stifled the case in the circuit court yesterday afternoon when he got an order staying the dissolution of the injunction until an appeal to the supreme court could be heard by that tribunal. Then the case will rest until the matter is reached in the regular order of business—which will probably be next fall.

City Attorney McElroy broke the sad news to the council as gently as possible last night, after the meeting had been called to order. In calling the meeting to order Mayor Thoroughgood alluded to the case as an "unfortunate affair" and said "the city was the under dog again."

Sidetracked For a Year.

City Attorney McElroy said all that the city could do had been done, and the case would now come up in the supreme court in the regular turn. He said he would try to get it advanced on the supreme court calendar, but had slight hopes of being able to do so.

Alderman McKee asked if that did not mean that the case would not be heard for a year, and City Attorney McElroy said that was about what it meant.

Then Alderman Stoddard had something to say. At the last meeting of the council, he stated, the city attorney had said that he had not time to begin the action. If such was the case Alderman Stoddard said he favored hiring some one to help the city attorney.

Needs No Help.

City Attorney McElroy said that he did not require any assistance, that when he could reach the case he would do so. He said if he was to do the city's business he must do it in his own way and his own time. This matter had taken up most of his time this week. When he needed counsel he would ask for it.

Mayor Thoroughgood said he was in court when the injunction was dissolved, and thought the matter "all straight." Consequently, he said, he was "much surprised to find things the way they were in the end."

Alderman McKee then moved that the city attorney be instructed to have the case advanced on the supreme court calendar, if such a thing was possible.

Alderman Burnham moved to postpone further consideration until the next meeting of the council, and the meeting adjourned.

And thus occurred the death of the McEllan case. The pall bearers were Aldermen McKee, Rice, Stoddard, Milmore, Kothman, Jones and Burnham. Aldermen Gilkey, Fifield and McLean being absent.

ARGUES FOR POSTAL BANKS

A Correspondent Has Something to Say In Their Favor

Editor Gazette:—Your editorial column don't seem to have many good words for the postal savings bank, the latest attack being that which appeared in last Monday's issue under the title of "Postal Bank Lunacy."

Now this is putting it rather strong, Mr. Editor, for if you would but know it you are casting reflections on the good judgment, business foresight and statesmanship of some of the leading men of the nation, from the president of the United States down. Then, too, you are persistently shutting your eyes to the fact, paramount to all others, that this proposed scheme is no untried theory, having its inception in the brain of some visionary agitator of the "Debsonian" school. The postal savings bank idea comes before the people of this country with the brand of success stamped thereon by nations and peoples, who have, with thirty years of practical experience, established their right and ability to pass judgment. England, after a trial of thirty-six years, says postal banks are a success, and that, too, of the most complete kind. New Zealand, after thirty one years' experience, testifies to the practical worth of postal banks, especially in time of financial panic, while our near neighbor speaks in highest terms of the workings of the system there.

Now do you consider the people of the United States unable to introduce and successfully prosecute a system which these and other countries have found both practical and beneficial? If Uncle Sam had not, as yet, established the money order system, or the registry system, or the free delivery system in connection with his postal transactions, would you consider the proposition for their introduction as chimerical or indicative of lunacy? And yet, each of these features were introduced for the benefit and convenience of the people, just the same as is contemplated in the proposition for postal banks.

Again, are not our officials as competent to transact the business resulting from the incorporation of such banking in our postal system as are those of any other country? Or do you imagine that our postmasters would have to graduate at a national bank, with a few years spent in Wall street, to give them the finish necessary to receive savings deposits at postal banks?

But perhaps it is because the scheme seeks to invade the sacred precincts of the banking world that you are so matterably opposed to it? Well, now, rest assured that other banks will continue to do business, even if postal banks are established. The introduction of the system in England did not drive all the trustee banks out of the country. In fact, we have it on excellent and recognized authority, that the "new system has been a positive benefit to the old."

Pshaw, Mr. Editor, don't try to look at this thing through a smoked glass. Climb up on the heights of American patriotism and progression, and you will discover that this is no will-o'-the-wisp affair, concocted by some political agitator who would like to have the government run things on the "department store" plan; nor are its advocates a parcel of freak financiers, with abnormal ideas regarding banks and banking. There are brains, bravery and business back of this thing, Mr. Editor, and if this combination is productive of "lunacy,"—well, make the most of it. Yours very truly,

ULY-LES G. WAITE.

NEWS FROM THE MORNING PAPERS

Washington, March 1.—The naval court of inquiry is proceeding as a court-martial, and keeping its proceedings to itself. The secretary of the navy says that he has no information not given to the public; that he knows nothing of the character of the evidence taken, or the opinions or conclusions of the board of inquiry.

What is more to the point, Secretary Long intimates that he does not expect to know anything about how the Maine was destroyed until the board of inquiry makes its report, which may be in a few days or not for two or three weeks. With such positive assertions from Secretary Long there can be nothing but speculation in Washington as to what the verdict will be. There is plenty of speculation, and little of it is now in line with the accident theory.

Secretary Long does not profess to believe in the accident theory, as he did for several days after the Maine was blown up. Other members of the cabinet believe, as does Secretary Long, that the ship was blown up by design. The experts in the navy also believe this, or now profess to believe it.

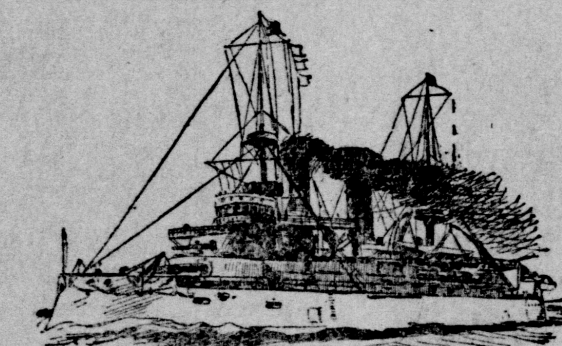

It is possible that the administration has been brought around from the accident theory by the same means that have convinced the general public that the Maine was blown up by design. They read the newspapers, and the press dispatches from Havana have all been against the accident theory.

What was the purpose of Senor du Bosc's statement that there were no mines in the Havana harbor? The question has been asked and has been the subject of much discussion. It is believed by some that Spain is preparing the way to contest any finding that the battleship was blown up by design. With the wreck sinking deeper and deeper into the mud of the harbor, it may be difficult to prove any assertion to the contrary.

OUR POWER ON THE SEA.

Navy of the United States Has Been Rapidly Built Up.

Washington, March 1.—The construction of what we call the new navy of the United States, "the white squadron," which has placed us sixth in the rank of the naval powers of the world instead of so far down that we were scarcely to be counted at all, has all been done in less than twelve years. It may be that the rank of sixth is not yet high enough to stand, but the progress of a decade is certainly remarkable.

(This warship, a companion vessel to the Kentucky, will be launched at the navy yard of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, March 24; the wife of Lieut. Winslow, U. S. N., acting as sponsor.)

It must be kept in mind that in the event of trouble many of the vessels in both the Spanish and American navies would be out of the calculation because of not being completed. The tonnage of those under construction for the United States is about 75,000 tons, and for Spain about 55,000 tons. The United States has not even provided for the armor for the Illinois, the Alabama and the Wisconsin, the three battleships under construction. But our ships are being built in our own navy yards, while those for Spain, or most of them, are in the navy yards of Great Britain and Germany.

SPAIN SEEKS DELAY.

Is Trying to Avert American Intervention in Cuba.

Madrid, March 1.—The correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean has received information which permits him to sum up the Spanish-American situation as follows:

It is the general diplomatic opinion here that relations between the two countries will not change unless it shall be proved that the blowing up of the Maine was intentional.

Public feeling is less excited and Spaniards hope that the United States will wait the operation of autonomy until April 25, on which date the new Cortes will meet.

If the status quo can be maintained without American intervention until the rainy season begins in Cuba, Spain expects that peace in the island will practically be effected before the rainy season ends in the autumn.

Money for the Naval Militia.

Washington, March 1.—The navy department has completed the allotment among the states of the appropriation of $50,000 made for the assistance of the naval militia organizations. The allotments are smaller this year than heretofore, owing to the fact that while the appropriation remains stationary the organizations are increasing in number, hence the effort now being made to secure from congress an increase of the appropriation to $60,000. The allotments are as follows: California, $4,168; Connecticut, $1,781; Florida, $2,008; Georgia, $2,429; Illinois, $5,647; Louisiana, $2,820; Maryland, $2,591; Massachusetts, $4,762; Michigan, $2,084; New Jersey, $3,930; New York, $5,096; North Carolina, $2,483; Ohio, $2,332; Pennsylvania, $2,332; Rhode Island, $1,403; South Carolina, $1,641; Virginia, $4,75. Total, $50,000.

Will Not Aid Spain.

London, March 2.—The Daily News commenting editorially on the relations between the United States and Spain, says: "Spain can expect no support, moral or otherwise, from Great Britain against the United States. She has ruined Cuba, as she has ruined or lost every other colony, by the grossest corruption, cruelty and maladministration, and she must be left to settle the account for it with those whom it may concern, without any aid or sympathy on our part."

Spain Stops the Work.

Havana, via Key West, Fla., March 1.—Diario del Ejercito, the Spanish army gazette, to-day says that Spain has notified the United States that the Maine's remains must not be wrecked (removed), and work must stop until the government receives the report of the United States court of inquiry.

Calls Our Sailors Pirates.

London, March 1.—The Carlisle organ, El Correo de Madrid, in its issue of Feb. 22, just received here by mail, says: "There is no doubt whatever that the loss of the Maine was due to lack of discipline" and cites the case of a United States cruiser which was lately at Venice, describing her crew as being "rather pirates than sailors of a civilized nation."

Call for Troops.

Washington, March 1.—The quartermaster general's office has completed a railroad schedule for the transportation of 100,000 troops, their equipment and necessary batteries. The first call for troops will include this 100,000 men. Not more than 10,000 of the first army which might occupy Cuba under this plan of concentration would be regulars.

Fleet for Cuba.

Key West, March 1.—The fleet here made up of the New York, Iowa, Marblehead, Montgomery, Nashville, Cushing and Ericsson, as well as three battleships, Indiana, Texas and Massachusetts, now at Dry Tortugas, has received orders to hold themselves in readiness to start for Havana at the tap of the drum.

Praise for McKinley.

London, March 1.—The Standard, in an editorial, highly praises President McKinley's statesmanlike moderation, and recognizes that "it would be only human nature that proof of the Maine's having been blown up from the outside should engender a dangerous war feeling in America."

Divers Accomplish Little.

Havana, March 1.—Little work was done Monday by the divers from the tug Right Arm. Captain McGee, who is in charge, seems to lack authority from the wrecking people or others, and is indisposed to work on his own judgment, except in smaller details.

May Buy British Warships.

London, March 1.—It is reported that arrangements have been almost completed by an agent of the United States government for the purchase of two warships that are now building in Great Britain. No details of the purchase are given.

Says Maine Can Be Floated.

London, March 1.—Sir Edward James Reed, the eminent naval expert, writes to the Times expressing the opinion that the Maine could be refloated for a tithe of her cost.

Present for the Government.

Providence, R. I., March 1.—At a large gathering of manufacturers a proposition to purchase a warship and present it to the government met with unanimous approval.

Nothing Short of Independence.

New York, March 1.—Horatio Rubins, counsel of the Cuban junta, said to-day of the reported coming of Senor Cataluna as a peace emissary of the Spanish government: "If he comes here to offer the independence of Cuba he will be listened to, but if that is not his errand he will not even be received by the Cuban junta."

Hayti Pays Italian Claim.

Kingston, Jamaica, March 1.—The Italian claim has been settled by Hayti paying the full amount demanded. The French government is now pressing a claim for damages for violation of the treaty rights of French citizens. President Simon Sam will visit Jacmel and the provinces March 6.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

Powerful Weapon Placed in the Hands of European Countries if They Desire to Exclude Our Meats—Will Have Far-Reaching Effect.

Kansas City, Mo., March 1.—The entire system of government inspection of meat which has been established in the packing districts of the United States was declared to be unconstitutional, ineffective and void in an opinion handed down in the United States District court Monday by Judge John P. Rogers at Fort Smith, Ark., who is sitting for Judge Phillips. An indictment against Harry Boyer, foreman of the fresh-meat department of the Jacob Dold Packing company, charged with attempting to bribe a government meat inspector, was quashed on the ground that congress had no power to create the office of meat inspector; that, even if Boyer had attempted to bribe an inspector, as was charged in the indictment, he did not commit an offense against the government.

The effect of the decision is to declare invalid the law by which people who consume the products of American packing houses are protected from impure or diseased meats. It is probable that the decision will make necessary a complete reorganization of the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture.

The effect of the ruling may be to place a dangerous weapon in the hands of Germany, to be wielded in its campaign of exclusion against American products. Should she so desire, it is asserted by some, she can now bar out American meat and raise a defense of self-protection against disease-infected product, which could not easily be combated.

SEVENTY FAMILIES HOMELESS.

Tenement-House in Brooklyn Is Destroyed by Fire.

New York, March 1.—A fire broke out at midnight in a four-story tenement house, No. 171 Harrison avenue, borough of Brooklyn, damaging property to the extent of $30,000, and made seventy families temporarily homeless. Several smaller tenement houses were destroyed. A number of persons were slightly injured by falling walls.

Immense Railway Earnings.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 1.—The Pennsylvania railroad's annual report for 1897 makes the following statement: The gross earnings of all the lines east and west of Pittsburgh were $128,278,086.86; operating expenses, $87,641,031.91, and net earnings $40,637,053.95. In earning this there were 159,515,950 tons of freight moved and 68,848,697 passengers carried. Upon the main line and branches east of Pittsburgh and Erie the gross earnings were $64,223,113.15; expenses, $43,257,626.59, and net earnings $20,965,486.50.

DON'T NEGLECT

A COMMON CASE OF PILES?

It May Lead to Serious Results.

When people generally understand that all such fatal diseases as fistula, ulcer of the rectum, fissure, etc., almost invariably begin in a simple case of piles, they will learn the wisdom of taking prompt treatment for the first appearance of trouble in this quarter. The Pyramid Pile Cure will certainly cure every form of piles, itching, bleeding, protruding or blind piles, and hundreds of lives have been saved by using this cheap but effective remedy right at the start, because at such a time a single package will effect a cure, while in the chronic, deep seated cases, several packages are sometimes necessary before a lasting cure is effected.

Physicians are using the Pyramid Pile Cure in preference to surgical operations and with uniform success. The remedy is prepared by the Pyramid Drug Co., of Marshall, Mich., and for sale by druggists everywhere.

This firm receive hundreds of testimonials from cured patients and publish a fresh list every week. This week we take pleasure in presenting the following: From Mr. M. A. Wilson, Peabody, Kansas: Your Pyramid Pile Cure received and I have received more benefit from two applications than from all other medicines I have ever tried. I have been troubled with piles for 30 years. They would come down every day and have to be worked back, but have not been down since the first application of the Pyramid. I am a convert to the merits of the Pyramid Pile Cure.

From C. D. Edgerton, Atty. at law, Northfield, Vermont: Send me two packages of your Pyramid Pile Cure. My father who has had piles for 40 years, says your remedy is the best he has found and he has tried everything. From W. H. Goodman, Greenville, Texas: Gentlemen: I have had wonderful relief from the Pyramid Pile Cure. I would not be without it. From Ira Shockey, Long, W. Va. The Pyramid Pile Cure has cured me. I have been waiting to see the result before writing and I can honestly say I am well of the piles and feel under many obligations to you.

Fresh letters will appear from all parts of the United States, all testifying to the wonderful effects which invariably result where this splendid remedy is used. It is the cheapest, safest and most effective pile remedy ever placed before the people and if you are subject to piles in any form this remedy will remove them.

It is on sale at all drug stores at 50 c's. Each package also contains a treatise on the cause and cure of piles, which will interest and benefit anyone so afflicted.

"THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD OR OUR SAVIOUR IN ART"

Cost over $100,000 to publish. Contains nearly 200 full-page engravings of our Saviour, by the great masters. Every picture is reproduced from some famous painting. Agents are taking from three to twenty orders per day. The book is so beautiful that when people see it they want it. The Hermitage, Prado, Uffizi, Pitti Louvre, Vatican, National of London, National of Berlin, Belvedere and other celebrated European galleries have placed their greatest and rarest treasures at our disposal that they might be engraved for this superb work. "FIRST GLANCE AT THE PICTURES BROUGHT TEARS TO MY EYES," says one. "Cleared $150 first week's work with the book," says another. "Some high grade" man or woman should secure the agency here at once." Says every editor, "as $500 can soon be made taking orders for it." Nearly $10,000 expended on new plates for edition coming from press. Also a man or woman of good church standing can secure position of Manager and Correspondent of this territory, to devote all his time to employing and drilling agents and corresponding with them. Address for full particulars A. F. T. ELDER, Publisher, 278 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

POSTAL BANK "LUNACY."

A letter is printed in another column in which a correspondent defends the postal bank theory—apparently forgetting that what may appear to be a fact to him, may not appear to be a fact to other people, and that one man is as much entitled to his opinion as another. Therefore, the fact that The Gazette differs with this correspondent is not conclusive evidence that The Gazette is wrong, although the correspondent seems to think it should be.

The correspondent says that the scheme is not the theory of visionary agitators. Well, everyone knew that before the correspondent wrote his letter. The democrats, the prohibitionists and all the other political organizations present some good points in support of the theories advocated. The Gazette can believe that the democratic party is in error without insulting the members of that party, or questioning their honesty or intelligence—it is a matter of opinion. In the aggregate the republican party is the only party representing the principles of government that should rule in America. Other parties present some good points, but they fall short in the aggregate. So with the postal bank theory. Some good men advocate the adoption of the plan, and present some good arguments in support of their belief, but in the aggregate, The Gazette thinks, the scheme falls short.

The correspondent says the English people find the postal banks a success. The English people also find a monarchical form of government a success. They find a railway system in which the passengers are locked in the coaches, with a guard stationed outside the door, a success. England finds many systems successful that the American people would not tolerate. Good arguments in defense of these systems may be presented, but the American people would hesitate about adopting them, just the same.

New Zealand is also quoted, but it has not yet become necessary for the American people to go to New Zealand to get a political education.

The question is raised of whether or not the American people are able to introduce a system that other nations find practical, etc. That was the appeal that Bryan made all through his campaign for sixteen-to-one theories. It is not a fair question, but an appeal to false patriotism. It is not an appeal to common sense. The fact that the American people can accomplish more than any other people in existence, cannot be, and is not denied. However, they decided that Uncle Sam's powers should be exerted in other directions when Bryan made that appeal to their prejudices and that threadbare cry does not apply to the postal bank theory any more than it did to the free silver idea.

The free delivery and money order systems cannot be classed with the banking theory. Neither of these systems is very expensive, in proportion, and in neither case does the government have to care for and guarantee a large amount of peoples' money as would be the case with the postal banks.

The correspondent seems to think that no special training is necessary "to receive postal savings bank deposits." This is true. Any man can take money handed him, and give a receipt for it, but the correspondent must remember that a postal bank must be a "bank" in every sense of the word. But, of course, if he does not think a knowledge of the banking business is necessary to conduct a bank, then it is useless to talk to him on that line.

Then he asks if The Gazette opposes the system because the bankers oppose it. A fair answer to such a question is a counter question: "Are you, Mr. Correspondent, in favor of the system because the bankers are against it?"

The Gazette owes no allegiance to any bank or banks. The Gazette company is solvent, and independent of any bank influence.

In conclusion the correspondent says "Don't look at this thing through smoked glass, climb to the heights of patriotism, progression," etc.

The fact that this correspondent thinks The Gazette is "looking through a smoked glass" is not conclusive proof. The 'heights of American patriotism and progression' do not extend more toward the heavens in Afton than they do in Janesville.

"Brains, brawn and business" may be back of the postal bank plan as he says, but from his point of view it does not seem to be apparent to him that brains, brawn and business may also be back of the opposition. But some men who know enough to come in when it rains do not believe in postal banks—the gentleman from Afton to the contrary notwithstanding. And if the brains, brawn and business back of the opposition can only produce the foolish arguments that the correspondent thinks, well let him make the most of it.

John B. Wilkie, recently city editor of the Chicago Tribune, has been appointed chief of the secret service bureau at Washington. Mr. Wilkie is the son of the late Francis B. Wilkie, a well known journalist and litterateur, of Chicago, who won a wide reputation as a writer of short sketches published under the nom de plume of "Polinto," and of books of a more pretentious character. The younger Wilkie is himself a writer of ability, and is personally popular wherever he is known.

An order discharging 250 members of the Chicago police force was issued yesterday. The reason is not that the force is larger than the needs of the city demand, but that the men whose heads are to fall into the basket are not in political harmony with the powers that be. Before a month shall have passed, the public will be apprised that there is a pressing necessity for more blue-coats, and the complement will be made up of democrats tried and true.

Russell Sage offers to loan the government $10,000,000 to carry on a war with Spain, but Col. Edward Swift, Southern passenger agent for the Washash road, goes further than that. Col. Swift is wealthy and is said to have a deal on hand with Italy for the purchase of a warship. If he is successful the man-of-war will be presented to the United States government.

A Polish schoolmaster at Vienna has solved the problem of taking colored photographs from a distance. His discovery will not place his name on "the tongue's end" of all the people, however, for his cognomen is "Szczepanik."

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED.

Here you have the evidence right at home from one of your own citizens.

"I wish I had a voice which could be heard throughout the length and breadth of this continent, that I might speak to the army of sufferers who are being tortured by the disease with which I have been afflicted for years. I have been an intense sufferer for several years and everyone who has had that disease knows the extreme agony I must have endured. Itching, burning, scratching, digging and loss of sleep has been my deplorable condition. Four of our best physicians had exhausted their energies on my case, without even giving me relief. Oh, what a godsend to me when one of our druggists called my attention to that wonderful remedy, Septicide, and assured me that it would do what all his hands had completely failed in doing. Suffice it to say that two bottles cured me completely, so there is no return of this dreadful complaint."

BLANCHE GIBBS' STRANGE CAPRICE

LEFT HOME RATHER THAN CONTINUE TO ATTEND SCHOOL.

Located In a Tobacco Warehouse After a Long Search—Apt in Her Studies But Did Not Like Them—In the Street at Midnight.

Blanche Gibbs, the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibbs, of 64 Chatham street, left home Sunday morning last, with the intention of going to Sunday school. From that time until this afternoon her whereabouts have been a mystery, and only upon her discovery in a local tobacco warehouse was the cause of her disappearance made clear.

Wanted a Change. Just why the girl should have left home is a question that her parents say they are unable to answer. Miss Gibbs says she wanted a change in life, and that instead of going to school from day to day, she thought it was far better to go to work and earn her living. When located by relatives today she seemed surprised to think that they should worry over her failure to come home nights; and said she thought she was doing no more than what was right. To a Gazette man who called at the Gibbs home this afternoon Mrs. Gibbs gave a hearty welcome, so pleased was she on receiving the news of the finding of her lost daughter.

Did Not Like School.

"I think that as long as we have located Blanche the less said about her disappearance the better," said Mrs. Gibbs, "for now we will see to her immediate return home. For several weeks past she has objected to attending school, and has several times made the remark that she was going to leave home and work as a nurse girl or in tobacco. When she failed to return home Sunday night we notified the police as well as all the neighbors and our friends, who each in turn promised to keep a sharp lookout for her. This afternoon we received word that she had applied at a local tobacco warehouse for work, and we will at once see to her return home and her early departure for school."

Speak Well of Her. At the Washington school, where Blanche attends, the teachers speak well of her, but admit that she is not the kind of a girl to be in love with her studies. The police say that since being notified of her disappearance they have heard of her in different parts of the city both day and night, but that each time they went after her she would suddenly disappear. Officer Ed Smith reports having met Blanche about 11:30 Sunday night near the corner of Milwaukee and Jackson streets and questioned her about her being on the streets alone at that time of night. She said she had no place to stay, nor was she provided with money. Officer Smith, not knowing who she was, took her to Smith's hotel, corner of Academy and Wall streets, where she was provided with a room and her breakfast. Monday morning she left the hotel, saying she was going to seek work.

Her parents now say they intend to keep a more strict watch over her, and that if possible they will see to it again she attends the Washington school.

ARISEN FROM ITS ASHES

Rush Lyceum Paper Will be Published Regularly in Future

The young men of the Rush Lyceum, the debating society of the High school, have taken decisive steps to instate and conduct a school paper, to take the place of the Vedette. As it is the successor of the Vedette it is called very appropriately the Phoenix, the Phoenix being the bird in the Grecian myth, which, when dead, would arise from its ashes and enter upon another career. The Phoenix will consist of eight pages, and will be of the general tone of all successful High school papers—literary, personal, and articles on school life in all its phases. The Phoenix starts out with every chance of success, the low price, fifteen cents for the next four months, placing it within the reach of all, thus making it a very good medium for advertisers. About five hundred copies will be printed for the first issue, and the number will be increased as fast as shall be found necessary. The life of the Phoenix depends upon its support from advertisers, contributors and subscribers. In regard to the first, the merchants and other business men of Janesville have been very liberal with their patronage. A number of capable persons, both inside and outside of the high school, have agreed to furnish material for each issue. Prof. Buell will furnish articles of an historical and civic interest each month. A subscription has been received from nearly every family represented in the high school, to say nothing of the many outside parties who have shown their interest in the school by agreeing to take the paper.

The editorial staff of the Phoenix is finally decided by the Lyceum consists of the following:

Editor in Chief—Ray Owen.
Assistant Editor—Collins Samuels.
Business Manager—Allen Lovejoy.
Athletic Editor—Percy Wallis.
Lyceum Editor—Percy L. Munger.
Persons wishing to subscribe to "The Phoenix" may do so by sending their name and 15 cents to the business manager, Allen Lovejoy.

REVOLUTIONARY DAUGHTERS

They Give an Entertainment About the Middle of April

An interesting meeting of the members of the Janesville Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held this morning at the Cherry street home of Miss Susan Jeffris. Members of the society were there in goodly number when the meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock.

Resolutions were passed on the death of Frances E. Willard, who was a member of the National society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Plans are also completed for the holding of an entertainment in the Armory on the afternoon and evening of April 19. In the afternoon for one hour beginning at 4:30 o'clock members of the eighth grade of the public schools will compete in an essay contest for a prize consisting of a five dollar gold piece. Their subject will be the life of George Washington previous to the year 1776. The judges selected for the contest are Victor P. Richardson, Stanley B. Smith and Horace McElroy.

In the evening at the Armory the large room will be decorated for the occasion and a series of living pictures, with prominent revolutionary people as subjects, will be given. The minut will be danced.

A HOT TIME IN TOWN NEXT WEEK

MIDWINTER FAIR PROMISES TO BE A GREAT SUCCESS.

Rich Program for the Entertainment of Visitors Prepared—Exhibits Will Be Large and of Varied Interest—Some Features of Special Note.

No Cuban war news has interfered with preparations for the Janesville Winter Fair next week. President George M. McKelvey has been directed to fortify the rink and to garrison the front door with Dr. E. D. Roberts. Further than this no warlike steps have been taken, but the preparation of the building for receiving potatoes, butter, prize barley and misc. pic. goes on cheerfully.

The decoration of the rink has been placed in the hands of the fire department men, who did so well last year, and who volunteered in advance for 1898.

Choice Entertainment Offered.

The farm institute round-up promises to be a memorable affair. The best authorities in the state will discuss questions of importance in every department of farm work. Instead of saving the best for the last, the institute managers have put some of their strongest speeches on the programme for Tuesday morning and those interested in the round-up work should make their plans to attend this session. They can do this by arranging to have their Midwinter Fair exhibits in place Monday afternoon. The first day's program at the institute will be too good to miss.

Assurance is given that the musical features of the institute will be the best ever offered at such a gathering. All the Janesville bands and orchestras have volunteered their services gladly and the Janesville Musical-Literary society has taken hold with enthusiasm.

Prizes Are Numerous.

Many merchants are displaying Midwinter Fair prizes in their windows and it is urged that others do the same. As many as possible are asked to decorate their stores or windows appropriately next week.

The sale day feature is likely to attract attention. A sale secretary will be on duty throughout the fair and grain, stock and farm produce can be listed without charge. Rockford seed buyers have written that they expect to be here to buy the best lots of grain that are displayed if satisfactory prices can be made.

SAYS BUSINESS IS BOOMING

President Miller, of the St. Paul, Takes a Hopeful View of the Future

Local officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, who have for several weeks past reported a boom are backed up in their statements by President Roswell Miller, of the road, who says regarding general railway business,

"General traffic continues good on the railroads. This is especially true as to merchandise traffic, which I am inclined to believe will continue to increase in bulk and importance through the coming spring and summer. It is now much heavier than it was last year at this time. As to grain shipments, the traffic must very soon practically cease, as to great quantities, for the simple reason that the grain has been pretty nearly carried out of the producing sections. We anticipated that it would cease about January 1, but it has been keeping up since that time to a remarkable degree. The railroads are once more getting back to their usual conditions and are doing business."

JANESVILLE A HEALTHY CITY

Extraordinary Exemption of the Town From Fatal Illness.

Not in weeks has the death rate been as small in this city as it was last week. Local undertakers report that not a death took place in the entire city during the seven days, which fact, they say, is extraordinary for this time of the year. For the three preceding weeks a large number of deaths were recorded, while in one day, five burials took place. The first death here in nine days, took place yesterday—the demise of Henry Shultz.

PLANS A EUROPEAN TOUR

Ex-Alderman Heddies and Wife Will Spend the Summer Abroad

Ex-Alderman Stuart B. Heddies is planning another trip to Europe, which he expects to take accompanied by his wife, about May 1. From present plans the trip will occupy about two months. They first expect to visit England, Scotland and Ireland, and from there will pay a visit to Holland. The trip will be to Mr. Heddies one of business as well as pleasure, for he has vast business interests in the tobacco line with foreign firms.

PORTRAITS OF MISS WILLARD

They Will Be Placed on Sale to Aid the Woman's Temple.

Photographs of Frances E. Willard, taken prior to her late illness are soon to be offered for sale in this city for fifty cents each. The object is to raise several hundred dollars by the sale of these pictures so that the W. C. T. U. may be able to help pay off the present debt on the Woman's Temple in Chicago. The pictures will be of the best material and finish and will be 16x24 inches.

Platted Material Much Worn.

A great deal of platted material is used in Paris now to face revers and flaring collars. It hardly matters what the material is, and cloth, satin, mouseline de soie and velvet are equally liked. On a gown of gray panne satin a queerly cut jacket bodice has a shawl collar and straight revers that fall in a point below the waist, faced with platted violet cloth. This is the only touch of violet on the dress, the rest of the trimming consisting of ruchings of gray mouseline de soie with headings of steel embroidery. Platted velvet sounds heavy, but it is possible, and some of the velvet used this year is extremely light in weight. One sees small yokes and chokers of one piece of velvet, with the plaits running up and down. The usual finish is loops of ribbon and mouseline de soie in the back.

Is not this an odd gown, perhaps more original than pretty? The skirt is of gold colored moire, cut with a short train. Over this is a sort of tunic of ecru guipure, mounted over black satin that slopes away, polonaise fashion, in front and is about half as long as the skirt behind. About the waist is a broad sash of black mouseline de soie, with tiny ruchings trimming the square bow. The sleeves and square yoke are of shirred and ruffled mouseline de soie. Lace caps fall over the sleeves, and lace ruffles trim these at the wrists. There is nothing to forbid the tunic being worn with a skirt of any color, but the old gold moire is most effective with the black and ecru.—Paris Correspondence.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis.

The selection of New York as a place of residence by Mrs. Jefferson Davis is thus explained by a friend in the Macdon Telegraph: "Mrs. Davis told me that the plantation at Beauvoir did not afford a living for herself and daughter, on account of freshets, floods, the low price of cotton, etc., and that it was necessary for her to work for a living. The best work suited to both of them is of a literary character, and when they began to look for purchasers of their productions they only found them in the north. They have made repeated efforts to dispose of their work to southern purchasers, but have found the demand very small for it, there being practically no market for high class literary work in the south, all of the big publishers and newspapers that are able to pay for it being in the north. Consequently it became necessary to move to one of the large cities, and they selected New York. There they find a ready market for all their productions, and the income thus derived, together with the small income from the Beauvoir plantation, affords them a comfortable living."

FERRY & Brennan have purchased the barber shop at 163 West Milwaukee street, formerly owned by C. H. Hamilton, and will conduct a first class tonsorial parlors. The proprietors will be pleased to see all their old friends and customers.

SELF-HYPNOTISM

Is Practiced Unconsciously By People Day By Day

In order to continue a habit, some people will put up with more misery day by day than they would stand for any other cause.

For instance, a man may have daily twinges of neuralgia or stomach trouble or weakness of the heart, (all having their origin in a disarranged nervous system) and be told many times that he could be rid of his misery by leaving off the drugs, tobacco and coffee that cause the trouble. But he stoutly asserts that they don't hurt him and are not the cause of his trouble. "Why," one man said, "I left off coffee and tobacco once for two weeks and I felt like a fighting cock, but I couldn't stand the powerful desire and had to take them up again."

Such experiences show the real hypnotic character of habit, and these habits are, to an extent, breaking down the race. When a man shakes off the hypnotism he clearly sees that bounding health and the ability to hold up one's head like a man, to do one's life duty and have the ability to carry out business projects successfully is worth more than all the habits on the face of the earth when coupled with daily aches and ails and an increasing ability to make things go.

Man's great object in life is happiness, and to portray as nearly as possible the perfect man, designed by the Creator.

Narcotic habits, like coffee and tobacco, break him down by as sure a law as that by which the sun rises each morning. It is easy to break the spell of coffee if Bostum Food Coffee is used, for when it is properly boiled it has the color and flavor of Java coffee and yet contains nothing but the most powerful food elements selected with especial reference to their ability to restore the delicate tissue in brain and nerve centres. The trade mark, "It makes red blood," covers a profound truth.

CALENDER OF CASES FOR JUDGE BENNETT

BUSINESS AWAITS HIM IN GREEN COUNTY.

A Number of Important Cases Are on the Docket—One a $5,000 Breach of Promise Suit The Term Will Be a Short—One.

Judge John E. Bennett left the city this morning for Monroe, where he will take charge of the Green county court calendar of cases. Court opened in that city at 11 o'clock this morning. Of the numerous trips that his Honor has made to Green county it is doubtful if never had a more interesting lot of cases to consider than at this term. The entire number of cases booked for trial are fifteen, and they are divided as follows: Six jury cases, five issues of law for the court and one criminal action. The calendar, however, is not without the usual number of interesting cases. There are a number of civil actions for damages among them being Stussey vs. Witt, Christ vs. Ladon and Tausig vs. Udelowish. Of these the last case mentioned is the most important. The defendant is charged with breach of promise to marry and the action is brought to recover $5,000 damages. The defendant is a well known merchant of this city and the plaintiff is a resident of Chicago. The defendant will be represented by Chicago attorneys. Another case that will be of considerable local interest is that of Hodges, et al. vs. Nalty. The plaintiff represents the St. Victor's church society of this city, and the question to be decided is the payment of a note of $1,000 which was subscribed by the defendant to the fund for building the present home of the society. Nalty withdrew from the church and refused to make good the note. A similar case started by the same plaintiff is docketed in the Iowa county court. Rev. H. S. O'Brien, the former priest of the church, is the defendant, and the note is for $1,500 together with interest. He subscribed this amount, but left the city and declined to pay it on the ground that he was no longer connected with the congregation. The obligation to pay is said to be more binding than in the Nalty case, and the action is brought to force payment.

SUFFERING OF HEART DISEASE

Critical Condition of Mrs. Margaret Miltimore Alarms Friends.

Mrs. Margaret Miltimore, who resides at the corner of Center and Eastern avenues, is dangerously ill with heart disease, and her recovery is a matter of much doubt. Mrs. Miltimore, who is seventy-nine years of age, has been ailing for some time, but nothing serious was thought of her case till the last few days, when it seemed to take a sudden turn for the worse.

The ailing lady has been prominent in G. A. B. Corps circles and her host of friends will unite in wishing that her recovery may only be a matter of a short time.

Testimonial No. 37:

"Has proved entirely satisfactory."

Woman's World.

News comes from Honolulu that a royal marriage has been arranged between Prince David Kawanakoa and Princess Victoria Kaiulani, niece of ex-Queen Liliuokalani.

All that is necessary to make the betrothal a formal one as befits Hawaiian royalty is the signature of dowager Queen Kapiolani to deeds of family settlement.

The bride to be is the daughter of ex-Governor Archibald Scott Cleghorn and the late Princess Miriam Likelike. Under the monarchical regime that lately prevailed Princess Kaiulani would have succeeded to the throne of Queen Liliuokalani.

PRINCESS KAIULANI.

Prince David is the son of David Kahalepouli, a famous high chief of Hawaii, and Kioiki Kekaulike, the younger sister of Queen Kaiulani. No one in all Hawaii enjoys a greater measure of popularity than he.

He is devoted to the interests of Hawaii. Under the monarchy he was destined for a place in the department of foreign affairs. He served there in minor capacities for some time and gained a reputation for ability that would have stood him in good stead had Queen Liliuokalani continued on the throne.

The young man wears the dress of the everyday New Yorker, just as the bride to be wears the latest fashions from Paris. He is 26 years old, about 5 feet 10 inches in height and has a swarthy face. Both have visited in this country.

English and American Factory Girls.

"When the wrongs and oppressions of which the members of my sex are victims," said an ardent reformer the other day, "work me up into such a state that I feel I can stand it no longer, I read the English newspapers."

"Heroic remedy," commented the flippant woman who makes biting, empty club speeches.

"It's a positive cure for the divine discontent that comes of knowing too much about the working woman and the working woman's neglected children," continued the reformer thoughtfully. "And although I am dissolved in tears usually, before I get through I go back to my work next day with infinitely more courage and enthusiasm. Striving to obtain higher wages and shorter hours and working to have unjust and unsanitary regulations abolished seem trifling tasks compared to the herculean labors which confront the English reformers. This month's number of The Women's Trade Union Review, for instance, gives an account of the fish curing industry in England. Girls of 14 have been found to be working through Saturday night and until 5 o'clock on Sunday morning. The work is trying at the best of times, and the girls are described as crawling home in an exhausted condition. No wonder. The processes of gutting, salting and packing are exempted from the protection of factory legislation on the score that fish is perishable, and the employers take advantage of this fact, even when the work in hand is not of an urgent character.

"Then some of the women who do the exquisite Irish embroidery on linen are paid not with money, but in packets of candles, tea or soap. As The Review says, 'Thrift is a great virtue, and one which is always being inculcated in our industrial friends, but unless they were magpies they could hardly cultivate thrift on such payments as these.'"

"And you really think these instances you mention are worse than our sweatshops and factories?"

"Our sweatshops as they exist now are as good as the workrooms of most of the up town department stores, and the conditions of the English and the American factory girl are as different as is night from day."

Chicago's Fair Carvers.

Wood carving is rapidly coming into favor with Chicago society women. Hull House is the rallying point for the entire fraternity, as it is here that the Chicago Arts and Crafts society was organized, and here its principal meetings are held. One of the most widely known women of the wood carving fraternity is Mrs. Anne Higginson Spicer. Her workshop is in the cellar of what is known to her neighbors as "Ye Little Gray House." The cozy space now occupied by benches and all the paraphernalia of a complete and artistic wood-working establishment was once a coal bin. The history of Mrs. Spicer's enlistment in the ranks of this craft is simple but unique. Being unable to find in the open market the kind of furniture which she desired, she courageously determined to learn how to make it. At first her decorative attempts were of the simplest character, but as she gradually acquired a better use of her tools she broadened the scope of her work and essayed more difficult tasks, until there are now few women who would attempt to excel her in either originality of design or skill of execution.

Her latest and perhaps most notable piece is a wood box, the front of which is covered by a design symbolic of the fire god. Even the heavy metal hinges of the box bear testimony to her fine craftsmanship, for she works in metal as well as in wood. While this piece is elaborately carved, it is also enriched by fire etching—a branch of the decorative art to which Mrs. Spicer has devoted much time in the last year. She does her own finishing and staining and is, in fact, able to construct a piece of art furniture, beginning with the wood in the rough and carrying it through all the processes of development to the last touch of color. A piano bench, settee, library table and several chairs in this home stand as convincing testimonial to the fact that at least one woman has been able to make furniture of an artistic quality not obtainable in the ordinary channels of trade.—Chicago Post.

Fashionable Side Combs.

Despite the fact that side combs for the hair come in such cheap imitations at present and are so universally worn as to be positively common, they are an absolute necessity for the prevailing mode of hairdressing. It is impossible to maintain the broad effect at the side which is de rigueur today without the aid of these combs, and though the fashionable woman cries out against a fashion which can be so easily copied by her less favored sisters, from a money point of view, she has no alternative but to accept the side comb, though in such a style and at such a price as to render it inaccessible to the woman whose pocketbook is not well filled.

The latest and most fashionable combs are small, of shell or amber, handsomely decorated with finely cut steel. Sometimes the steel is merely a narrow band of beads; again it is arabesque, or painted, or rounded, or a series of flower-de-luce or clover leaves. The variety is limitless, and as they are expensive and not very easily copied in a cheaper comb they are considered very chic.

The nation or maiden who possesses a stock of unset gems has her combs of gold or silver set with precious stones, and many women who are known to be the owners of beautiful jewels and who would never be suspected of wearing an imitation gem buy the almost perfect counterparts of their real gems which are shown in the shops in order to preserve their more expensive combs. They urge in explanation that the combs are so apt to fall out of the soft, fluffy rolls of hair.

Amber combs just at present seem to be more in favor than the darker shell, especially for a woman with moderately light or real blond hair. The most up to date ones are studded with colored stones for evening wear, and if carefully chosen to harmonize or contrast with the color of the hair these brilliant ornaments are very becoming.—St. Louis Republic.

Demiseason Costumes.

It has now become the fashion to have what are called demiseason costumes, and not only gowns, but hats as well. This is a decided innovation, for in olden times it was only considered necessary to provide oneself with thorough outfits for summer and winter, but now spring and autumn require just as careful looking after and apparently just as many clothes. In the early spring and early autumn people formerly did not mind looking a little shabby. Now it is expected that not only should the gowns that have been worn for some time be freshened up, brushed and refurnished, but it is required that absolutely new gowns shall appear. Fortunately, while such gowns must be smart and new and give a hint of what the style of the coming season is to be, they are not necessarily expensive.

Light wool goods are greatly in favor for the spring demiseason. They are a little too light in color as well as in texture to wear in the street until the spring fairly sets in, but they are very charming for house wear. Those seen now are mostly in the wood colors and the gray. The hats are all what might be called decorative in effect, quite gaudy and as a rule of light felt. Besides these light colored gowns and gaudily trimmed hats there are also many very charming wraps and a few velvet gowns. These last are without exception imported gowns and certainly advance couriers of what we are to expect next winter.—Harper's Bazar.

Horseback Man Fashion.

About 20 years ago a young Philadelphia woman, the daughter of a physician and a favorite in exclusive society, startled her friends by appearing at one of the hunt club meets riding her horse astride. She was a skillful horsewoman, and she defended her innovation by saying that she could get more speed out of her mount with more safety for herself at the jumps by riding man fashion than was possible with the regulation side saddle.

Nevertheless the other women looked at her frowningly, and her father openly expressed his displeasure. Even the men did not regard her with favor, and she felt and looked decidedly uncomfortable. But after a few minutes, during which she seemed about to cry, she braced herself up, her cheeks flushed and her eyes sparkled. "I'll show you," she exclaimed, "that I can lead you all the way over the course when riding in this fashion!"

She was mounted on a fine thoroughbred, and as her weight was not much over 120 pounds she certainly had some reason to feel confident. The run was across country, and there were several stiff jumps. She was in the lead over every obstacle, and the others were beaten by over a quarter of a mile. She had carried her point, but in deference to her father's wishes resumed the feminine manner of riding afterward. Now a young woman has appeared riding astride in Boston, and the whole town is trying to find out who she is.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Smart Fashions In Tea Gowns.

The blousy effect follows even the tea gown, and where a full Russian front is inserted of soft material it is usually bloused slightly, quite low at the waist line in front, being held in place with ribbon or a belt of jewels running across the front only. Many of the tea gowns have long stole ends that reach quite to the bottom of the skirt and may be of lace, chiffon, net or of the material employed in the gown, trimmed with ruchings, insertion or tiny silk ruffles running across the stole and placed at intervals the entire length of this telling feature of the gown. They may be held at the shoulders with rosettes or bows of satin ribbon, or they may be set in at the shoulder seam. In some gowns where this is the principal trimming they start from the back at the bottom of the waist line, crossing the shoulders, where they are held in place with a full bow, and from there fall gracefully to the lower edge of the skirt. When used this way, they are generally made of chiffon, wide ribbon or the half width of some soft silk, and are laid in soft, flat folds in the back and tucked to the gown in the back, then hung loose in the front from the shoulder.

The latest tea gown has a demitrain, which adds much to the grace and elegance of the garment, as well as keeping the pace of the fashionable dress skirt.—Woman's Home Companion.

Colorado Governor For Suffrage.

Governor Adams of Colorado has received so many inquiries about equal suffrage that he has prepared a circular letter in answer, as follows:

When the question was submitted in Colorado, I supported and voted for the proposition as a question of abstract right, as every fair man must admit, when the question comes to him, that a woman has the same right of suffrage as a man. In advocating suffrage you need no platform but right and justice. Those who will not accept it upon that ground will not be persuaded though one rose from the dead.

I will, however, add that not even the most virulent enemy of woman suffrage can prove that any harm has come from the experiment. The test in Colorado is still too new to expect a unanimous verdict, yet all fair minded observers are justified in predicting a higher standard of moral and of political life as a result of woman suffrage.

Federation Vice Presidents.

A clever little trick to which the women's club conventions are just now prone consists in announcing some speaker upon their programme as "vice president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs." As only those well versed in the mysteries of the federation see through the trick, it usually works like a charm and is another proof of the love the clubwoman has for anything titular, no matter how much or how little the title implies. According to the constitution of the federation, every president of the many hundred clubs within the fold is a vice president of the amalgamated body.—New York Sun.

CHARGE AGAINST RAILROADS.

Claim Made That Corporations Intimidate Their Employees at the Polls—Silver Coinage Statistics Sent to the Senate.

Washington, March 1.—The house passed the sundry civil appropriation bill Monday after four days' debate. The most important action was the elimination of the appropriation for representation at the Paris exposition on a point of order.

Mr. Lewis (Dem., Wash.) offered an amendment, which was ruled out on point of order, designed to prohibit the imprisonment by United States judges of persons charged with contempt of court until such persons shall have been adjudged guilty by a jury. Gen. Shattuc (Rep., Ohio), who was for thirty years connected with the management of railroads, took occasion to answer an attack made upon the railroads some time ago. Mr. Fox (Dem., Miss.), to whose speech Mr. Shattuc had replied, denied that he had assailed the railroads. "Deny it as you will," said Mr. Fox, "it is a fact that the railroads and other corporations controlled the vote of their employees for McKinley by intimidation, threats and bribery. If the laboring men of the country had been allowed to vote their convictions William J. Bryan would now be President of the United States."

The bill was then passed, and the house went back into committee of the whole and passed the bill reported by the ways and means committee to give the owners of distilled spirits the privileges as to transportation now enjoyed solely by the distiller.

SILVER COINAGE STATISTICS.

Secretary Gage Submits Some Facts and Figures to the Senate.

Washington, March 1.—Secretary Gage, in reply to a resolution relative to the coinage of standard silver dollars from bullion purchased under the provisions of the act of July 14, 1890, Monday sent the senate this statement:

"The total amount, cost and coining value in standard silver dollars of silver bullion purchased under the act of July 14, 1890, is as follows:

"Fine ounces purchased, 168,674,682; cost, $155,931,002; coining value, $218,084,438. From Aug. 31, 1890, to Nov. 1, 1892, there were coined from this bullion 36,087,285 standard silver dollars, containing 27,911,259 fine ounces, costing $29,110,186, giving a seigniorage of $6,977,098, from which there were paid for expenses of distributing silver dollars $77,175 and $22,730 to reimburse in part the bullion fund for silver sold in sweeps and wasted by the operative officers of the respective mints from Aug. 13, 1890, to Nov. 1, 1893, and the remainder ($6,877,192) was paid into the treasury."

Declines to Seat Corbett.

Washington, March 1.—Henry W. Corbett was denied admission to the senate as a senator from Oregon on the appointment by the governor by the decisive vote of 50 to 19. After disposing of the Corbett case the senate began the consideration of the Alaska homestead and railway right-of-way bill, and had not concluded it when it adjourned.

Running Fight with Bandits.

Bayard, Neb., March 1.—A sheriff's posse had a running fight of two hours Sunday afternoon with two men supposed to be the robbers who held up the Bank of Bayard Saturday. The posse of five men came upon two well-mounted men near the South Dakota line. They were within calling distance of the men, when the two suddenly turned in their saddles and began firing at their pursuers with their rifles. Their shots were returned. Both were riding hard at the time. The fight continued for several miles, when the shots of the robbers brought down two horses of the pursuers and wounded Deputy Royce. This put an end to the pursuit.

Troops May Be at the Trial.

Washington, Ind., March 1.—First Lieutenant Ross Smith last night received a telegram from Col. George H. Pennington, 1st regiment, Indiana national guards, ordering him to have company D at this place in readiness to move. It is supposed the company will be sent to Ripley county, Indiana, where great excitement prevails over the trial of C. H. Hughes, charged with being one of the lynchers at Versailles last fall.

State Presents Strong Case.

Carlinville, Ill., March 2.—The state has finished the presentation of its main evidence in the Hedley murder case. The state has built up a strong chain of evidence to prove there was more motive in Captain Hedley's shooting of his aged rival than mere self-defense. There will be over thirty witnesses introduced by the defense. Miss Ella Brown's evidence is expected by the defense to materially assist in securing an acquittal.

Cannot Override the Veto.

Frankfort, Ky., March 1.—Governor Bradley's veto of the McChord railroad extension bill was read in the senate Monday, but no action was taken except to print the veto and refer the bill. The committee on railroads will report in favor of passing the bill over the veto, but it is nearly if not quite certain now that the veto will be sustained.

DECLINES TO LICENSE VICES.

The Iowa Senate Postpones Mr. Cheshire's Mule Bill.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 1.—Monday night the railway committees of the house and senate met to hear F. T. Campbell, who appeared on behalf of the Iowa State Traveling Men's association to ask for a straight 2-cent fare. The senate indefinitely postponed Senator Cheshire's bills to place a tax of $1,000 on each vicious resort or gambling house. The laws were framed after the mule law relating to liquor and were no bar to prosecution against such places under present laws. The senate also postponed bills to district the state for members of the board of health and the Wilson resolution to inquire into the printing and binding of schoolbooks in the penitentiaries.

Debate in the senate was on Hayward's bill to admit the orphans of soldiers into the home at Davenport, and the Malloy bill to permit boards of supervisors to levy 2 mills instead of one-half of 1 mill for the care of the insane.

Ferris' Remains Still Held.

Pittsburg, March 1.—The remains of George W. G. Ferris, known throughout the world for his daring invention and construction of the great Ferris wheel at the Chicago world's fair, are still held at the crematory of an undertaker in this city for the unpaid funeral expenses, contracted over a year ago. Mr. Ferris was practically penniless at his death, but carried insurance to the amount of $25,000. This, it is said, was more than eaten up by the numerous claims left.

See Hope for the Indians.

Washington, March 1.—The twenty-ninth annual report of the board of Indian commissioners, of which Merrill E. Gates is chairman, has been submitted to Secretary Bliss. It says that in the general condition of the Indians no important changes have taken place, but there is evidence of steady progress in industrial pursuits and in education.

Dwyer Near to Death.

New York, March 1.—Michael F. Dwyer, the famous turfman, is reported to be dying at his residence in this city. He recently returned from Florida, where he usually lives during the winter months. It is said Mr. Dwyer is very low and not expected to live many hours.

Union Men to Bring Action.

Anderson, Ind., March 1.—Union workmen who were recently let out of the Pittsburgh plate-glass works at Elwood because of alleged leadership in a recent strike are in the city preparing to bring action on the charge of discrimination against employees because of union principles.

Will Care for the Orphans.

Havana, March 1.—Miss Clara Barton has founded an asylum for the orphans of the concentrados. It is at the beautiful place called El Tulipan, in the ward of El Cerro. She sent provisions for the relief of eighteen towns in the interior, where there is great suffering for lack of food.

Will Contest Indiana Law.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 1.—By direction of the Democratic state committee, Thomas R. Marshall, the member from the 12th district, Monday began an action in court at Columbia City to have the law extending the terms of township trustees declared unconstitutional.

Great Britain as Arbitrator.

Washington, March 1.—In diplomatic circles it is said that the reports that war is imminent between Chili and the Argentine Republic are not well founded, and that, on the contrary, arbitration by the British government has been agreed upon as a means of settlement of differences.

Powder Causes Fatalities.

Lima, O., March 1.—Henry Heffner and wife were away from home, when their three little children poured the contents of a can of powder on the stove. Two were burned so badly they died in a few hours and the other cannot live.

Klondikers by the Hundreds.

Victoria, B. C., March 1.—The rush of Klondikers for miners' licenses increases at Victoria. Hundreds have just arrived from Seattle and other coast points and are outfitting here. Prices are lower than in United States cities.

Carnegie Buys Big Furnaces.

Pittsburg, March 1.—The Post announces the sale of the Carrie furnaces to the Carnegie Steel company, limited, by the Messrs. Fownes. The sale was a cash one, and while no figures are given, the plant was valued at $600,000.

Budd Would Like to Be Senator.

San Francisco, March 1.—Governor Budd has informed his friends that in view of the retirement of Senator White he will be a candidate for the United States senate provided the next legislature is Democratic.

Not Asking Increased Rates.

London, March 1.—There is no truth in the report circulated in the United States that Lloyd's underwriters are asking slight war risks upon Spanish steamers bound for the island of Cuba.

Army Estimates Approved.

London, March 1.—The house of commons, without division, adopted the army estimates, covering the increase asked for by the government.

Senor Polo's Voyage Begins.

Gibraltar, March 1.—Senor Louis Polo y Bernabe, the Spanish minister to the United States, sailed for New York Monday.

ARGENTINA ARMING.

Chile's Eastern Neighbor Preparing for Self Defense.

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, March 1.—In view of the warlike preparations being made by Chile, the Argentine government has decided to purchase three warships and arms for 150,000 men.

The people of Argentina are enthusiastic over the possibility of war. Many public officials have offered to give part of their salaries for buying warships.

It is not generally believed that war is imminent, but the people consider it their duty to prepare for an emergency in case Chile should refuse to fulfill her promises made in the boundary treaties.

Only Seven Operators Sent.

Chicago, March 1.—Reports that 40 of the swiftest telegraph operators in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph company in this city were to start for Florida within the coming week, practically under government sealed orders, and that thirty-five men already had left New York for Jacksonville and Key West, were denied today by William J. Lloyd, assistant superintendent of the Western Union company. "This story is all nonsense," said Mr. Lloyd. "Some of our eastern officials told me incidentally yesterday that seven men recently had been sent from New York to Key West because of the heavy increase in business at that point, resulting from the destruction of the Maine. From this the story probably originated."

Spalding Wants Rehearing.

Springfield, Ill., March 1.—The clerk of the northern division of the Supreme Court has received from the attorneys of Charles W. Spalding an application for a rehearing of his case. The application is purely formal, serving notice that motion and petition will be filed for a rehearing. Under the rule of the court Mr. Spalding will have until March 11 in which to file his motion with the clerk, the same being the required ten days after filing of application. The petition will be taken up by the court when it convenes here the first Tuesday in April.

Organizing the Cowboys.

Phoenix, A. T., March 1.—A movement is under way for the formation in Arizona of an independent cavalry regiment, composed mainly of frontiersmen well skilled in the management of horses and arms and embracing a large number of cowboys. Companies are being organized at Prescott, Flagstaff, Phoenix, Globe, Solomonville, Tombstone, Tucson and other cities. The intention is to in nowise become a part of the territorial militia, but to organize an independent company ready to go to the front at once. The enrollment is expected to reach 1,000.

Acquitted After Death.

Guthrie, Okla., March 1.—Ever since the burning of the two Indians for the murder of Mrs. Laird at Maude, I. T., it has been asserted that Lincoln McGee, the youngest of the two, was innocent, and all the evidence brought out at the hearings has served to corroborate this assertion. It is now learned that special agents of the government have secured evidence establishing a complete alibi for Sampson, the other victim, proving he was forty miles from the Laird home at the time of the murder.

To Protect Washington State.

Port Townsend, Wash., March 1.—The work of fortifying the three conspicuous points contiguous to Port Townsend, which has been going on in a desultory fashion for some months, is now being pushed forward under special orders from Secretary Alger and now the double forces at work at Points Marrowstone and Admiralty are being worked night and day to finish up, and already preparations are being made for placing the heavy guns, which are due to arrive any day.

McKisson for Vice President.

Columbus, Ohio, March 1.—The Evening Press publishes a story to the effect that there is a movement on the part of silver Republicans and Democrats to make Mayor McKisson of Cleveland, who contested with Marcus A. Hanna for the United States senatorship, the silver candidate for vice-president in 1900, with Mr. Bryan as the leader.

Female Complaints—Welcome News

THREE HAPPY WOMEN.

Each Relieved of Periodic Pain and Backache. A Trio of Fervent Letters.

Before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, my health was gradually being undermined. I suffered untold agony from painful menstruation, backache, pain on top of my head and ovarian trouble. I concluded to try Mrs. Pinkham's Compound, and found that it was all any woman needs who suffers with painful monthly periods. It entirely cured me.

Mrs. GEORGE WASS,
923 Bank St., Cincinnati, O.

For years I had suffered with painful menstruation every month. At the beginning of menstruation it was impossible for me to for more than five minutes, I felt so miserable a little book of Mrs. Pinkham's was house, and I sat right down and read it. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I can heartily say that to-day I woman; my monthly suffering is a thing shall always praise the Vegetable Compound done for me.

Mrs. MARGARET ANDERSON, 363 Lisbon St., Lewiston, Me.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of painful menstruation and backache. The pain in my back was dreadful, and the agony I suffered during menstruation nearly drove me wild.

Now this is all over, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine and advice.—Mrs. CARRIE V. WILLIAMS, South Mills, N. C.

The great volume of testimony proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safe, sure and almost infallible remedy in cases of irregularity, suppressed, excessive or painful monthly periods.

Wright's 'High School Tar Soap'

The highest cleansing and healing qualities in it of any TAR SOAP made. For cleaning greasy articles where other Soaps refuse to take hold it has no equal. As a healing article for use about animals it is certainly very fine. One of our unsolicited testimonials:

"Last spring my cows were troubled with the Kine Pox; tried several remedies, but found nothing to help until after using J. T. Wright's HIGH SCHOOL TAR SOAP, when they were cured in three days." H. J. BULLOCK, of Janesville City Creamery.

How the World Wags.
Average Man—What has become of that old fool, Wilkins? Used to call himself a colonel, or something.

Citizen—He happened to own a piece of land on which oil was found, and is now rich. Lives in a palace on the avenue.

Average Man (some hours later)—Hello! That looks like Gen. Wilkins.

Another Citizen—Yes, that's the general. Do you know him?

Average Citizen—Yes, indeed. The general and I are old friends. — N. Y. Weekly.

Just Like a Woman.

Mrs. Upperten—Answer the doorbell, Mary, and say that I'm not at home.

Mary—All right, mum.

Mrs. Upperten (five minutes later)—Who was it, Mary?

Mary—Mrs. Brownstone and her daughter.

Mrs. Upperten—What did they say when you told them I was not at home?

Mary—They said: "How fortunate!" — Chicago Daily News.

Had Been Through the Mill.

Mrs. Honeymoon—Here is an item in the paper saying that in some parts of Australia when a man marries each one of the bride's relatives strikes him with a stout stick by way of welcome into the family. Queer sort of an idea, isn't it?

Mr. Honeymoon (feeling an extra lump on his head)—Huh! I don't see that it is any queerer than slinging all their old shoes at him, as they do in this country. — N. Y. Truth.

Her Solution.

Mamma (to Tiny Tot, who wants to deprive a younger brother of a delicacy they have both set their hearts on)—No, darling; you must let baby have it now, and when he grows up and you are a young lady he will have to give way to you.

Tiny Tot—Is that why papa always has to do as you want, mummy? — Punch.

Too Much for Him.

"I will give $100 to anyone who can equal my tricks," shouted the professor of legerdemain, who had the stage.

"I accept your offer," answered a man as he pushed through the crowd.

"Do you belong to the periphery?"

"Now, I manufacture gas meters."

"Then I withdraw the proposition."

—Detroit Free Press.

How It Deters.

"I do not think that capital punishment is a deterrent of crime, do you?" said Mrs. Bickerstaff to Mr. Cawker.

"Well," replied Cawker, "I never heard of a second murder being committed by a man who had been thoroughly hanged after his first crime." — N. Y. Journal.

Horrid Man.

Mr. Peckham—And when the fellow approached you and wanted to accompany you home, what did you say?

Mrs. Peckham—Say? I didn't say anything! I couldn't! I was stricken dumb!

A Forgotten Tyrant.

"All men are free!" His boast serene And haughty, none denied. It would have shocked them, had they seen His humble and obedient mien Whene'er his baby cried. — Washington Star.

MAN WITH A HISTORY.

She—I like to meet a man with a history.

He—I'll tell a friend of mine to call. He's a book agent. — N. Y. Ledger.

The Friend Indeed.

How nice a thing it is to have A friend whom you can trust; yet true It is that it is well to have A friend, when asked, who will trust you. — Up-to-Date.

Cool.

He (theatrically)—You have refused me! To-morrow I go to seek my fortune in the Klondike.

She—May I have the refusal of you when you return? — Puck.

As to Brother Lastly.
"What was the subject of Brother Lastly's sermon yesterday?"

"Heaven—Is It a Place or a State, and What Do Its Inhabitants Do?"

"Good sermon?"

"Beautiful."

"What did he tell you about Heaven?"

"Well, he said Heaven is something we know absolutely nothing about." — Chicago Tribune.

Why He Stayed Away.

"Why is it you never come around to see us any more, Charley? Have we ever done anything to offend you?"

"No, it's nothing you've done; but, if you insist upon having the truth, it's your children."

"Our children! What on earth do you mean?"

"You see, they've got old enough to recite now." — Tit-Bits.

Viewed by Many.

Yes, artist, you are really great. Though critics keep you down; Your most successful piece of work Is painting red the town. — Judge.

NOT NEEDED.

Servant—Please'm, there's a poor man at the door with wooden legs. Mistress—Tell him we don't want any. — St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"Look here," said the man, "I don't mind drinking another bottle, but this must be the last." — Boston Traveler.

A Desperate Man.

"I will tell you a secret, gentlemen," said Mrs. Smallporshun to her boarders. "Mr. Hunker is to be married soon, and will go to housekeeping."

"Well," replied the chronic bachelor, "it does not much surprise me that men will resort to desperate measures to escape from boarding-houses." — N. Y. World.
